Georgia Free Clinic Network Hires New Executive Director

The Board of Directors of the Georgia Free Clinic Network announces that Donna E. Looper has been chosen as its new Executive Director.

“We are excited to have Donna on board during this critical growth period of the GFCN,” said Ross Mason, President of the GFCN Board of Directors. “The Search Committee was looking for a leader who has the vision, versatility and experience the network needs to meet challenges head on. She will be an asset to the organization and the member clinics.”

Ms. Looper has 25 years experience working for and advising non-profit organizations in fundraising, government relations and strategic planning. Most recently, she was the Director of Membership, Marketing and Communications for the Medical Association of Georgia.

“I am honored to be chosen, and looking forward to contributing to the growth of the Free Clinic movement here in Georgia. This is an opportunity that allows me to serve the needs of those who are on the frontlines every day providing health care to those who need it most – the uninsured,” says Looper.

She officially began her responsibilities August 1 and can be reached at 404.797.1582 or ed@gfcn.org.
